

Thrive in Thomaston Hosts Spring Business Gathering on May 28

THOMASTON, Maine — Local business owners, nonprofit leaders, and community organizations are invited to the next Thrive in Thomaston gathering on Wednesday, May 28 from 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. at Watts Hall Community Arts, 174 Main Street, Thomaston.

This spring meeting offers an opportunity to connect with peers, share updates, and explore new ways to collaborate and promote Thomaston's vibrant downtown. The evening will begin with informal mingling and light hors d'oeuvres, followed by a group discussion on summer initiatives, including the 4th of July celebration and the 5th season of Music Behind the Block. Organizers will also unveil the newly launched Thrive in Thomaston website and propose a shared summertime ad in the Midcoast Villager.

"This is a space for people who care about Thomaston's vitality to come together, share what they're working on, and find ways to support one another," said Kendray Rodriguez, Community & Economic Development Coordinator for the Town of Thomaston. "Whether you run a business, lead a nonprofit, or represent a community group, we hope you'll join the conversation."

Thrive in Thomaston is a local initiative focused on strengthening the town's economy and fostering connection among businesses and organizations.
